Nick Lewin's "Comedy Magic" is the longest running one-man show in Las Vegas, at the Maxim Hotel and Casino. Now in its fourth year, "Comedy Magic" is the highest rated daytime show in town, according to the Las Vegas Review-Journal, and is contracted to run through January 2001.

A true entertainer, Lewin brings showroom performance and intensity to the corporate environment. His timing and performance level is at top capacity because he performs twelve solo top quality Las Vegas shows every week. No need for fancy props and white tigers – Lewin's immaculate sleight-of-hand magic and honed comedy timing radiates pure skill, style and sophistication. Turn on the spotlight, give him a hand-held wireless microphone and Lewin is off delighting even the hardest-to-impress corporate executives and audiences of up to 1,000 people.

A native of London, England, Brit Wit Nick Lewin has been a Las Vegas favorite since he first hit the "Strip" in casino venues at the MAXIM, MGM GRAND, BALLY'S, IMPERIAL PALACE, RIVIERA and TROPICANA. Besides headlining comedy rooms like the Flamingo Hilton in Reno and all the major chains like "Catch a Rising Star," "Punchlines" and "The Comedy Stop", Lewin has opened for stars such as Paul Anka, Charlie Daniels, Mickey Gilley, Paul Williams, Brenda Lee, Mary Wilson of "The Supremes," Marty Stuart, The Lettermen – the list goes on and on.

Fortune 500 companies who have enjoyed Lewin's magic over the years include AT&T, Budweiser, Chevron, Dow Chemical, General Motors, Hyundai, IBM, Lawry's Foods, Lincoln Mercury, McDonalds, MCI, NAMIC, Pacific Bell, Pepsi Cola, Publisher's Clearing House, Redken, 7-Up, Shaklee Corporation, Toshiba, Toro Industries and Western Digital to name just a few!

Lewin's biggest production was a 38-foot diesel truck illusion that he created for Western Star Trucks. He has produced a series of meetings for Searle Consumer Products and Advanced Micro Devices, including an international magical extravaganza for AMD at the Electronics Festival in Munich.

Lewin's television credits span drama, comedy and interview programming, including his own national cable series "The Entertainment Files" which featured guests including Charlie Daniels, David Cassidy, Lance Burton and Melissa Anderson. Lewin has appeared and starred in dramatic roles in "Kung Fu: The Legend Continues," "Alfred Hitchcock Presents," "Amazing Stories," "Comic Strip Live" and Showtime's "Comedy Club Network" and many others

If you are looking for sophisticated corporate humor and immaculate magic that is both edgy and politically correct, you need look no further than Nick Lewin, the ultimate corporate performer who brings showroom intensity and charisma to any event.
